

Conflicts of Interest

Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch acts as Index Sponsor. Conflicts of interest may exist or arise between the Index Sponsor and/or Deutsche Bank Entities acting in other capacities, including as counterparty to a transaction linked to the Index. Subject always to its regulatory obligations, each relevant Deutsche Bank Entity will pursue actions and take steps that it deems appropriate to manage its risks and protect its interests, and this may have adverse consequences for investors in any Financial Products. Deutsche Bank Entities may be in possession at any time of information in relation to the Index or any futures, options or other financial instruments related thereto which may not be available to investors in any Financial Product. There is no obligation on any Deutsche Bank Entity to disclose to any investor in any Financial Product any such information.

Deutsche Bank Entities may be entitled to receive fees or other payments pursuant to Financial Products or otherwise and to exercise all rights, including rights of termination or resignation, which they may have, even though so doing may have a detrimental effect on investors in any Financial Product.

The Index Sponsor and/or other Deutsche Bank Entities may, in relation to the hedging of financial products linked to the Index, engage in hedging activities in the financial instruments underlying the Index or related financial instruments. In addition, as a global bank, Deutsche Bank entities engage in hedging, client order execution, and other trading activities in most financial markets. Further, hedging activities in relation to financial products linked to the Index are likely to involve the receipt of index selection data by the Index Sponsor and/or other Deutsche Bank Entities from the Index Administrator or Index Calculation Agent in advance of the index reconstitution date, or the computation of index selection data by the Index Sponsor and/or other Deutsche Bank Entities in advance of the index reconstitution date. Such hedging activities may commence in advance of the index reconstitution date and/or time.

These activities may affect the prices of the financial instruments underlying the Index, and may have a negative impact on the Index Level on an Index Business Day. Investors in Financial Products should note that the performance of an index prior to its live date does not account for the market impact (if any) caused by hedging activities, which may have an adverse effect on the performance of an index.
